MT. VIEW SANITARY DISTRICT
LIABILITY RELEASE

We at Mt. View Sanitary District are pleased to have you visit our treatment plant and/or wetlands (District's facilities). The treatment plant and wetlands each present various safety risks to persons and animals. To protect your pets and/or service animals, they are not allowed in the treatment plant and wetland areas. The plant's equipment must be respected and observed from a safe distance, and you must follow the directions of your host. Equipment in and around the plant emits loud, sudden sounds with structures that may present sharp edges. Water and/or spills in and around the plant may contain human contaminants and are not suitable for consumption or contact. The wetlands are a natural area and although it may be innocent in appearance, it poses many hazards such as unfenced deep-water ponds and channels, unprotected and uneven walkways, ground level water control structures, water not suitable for consumption or contact and possible contact with natural allergens. Additionally, it is important to remember that wetlands are a habitat for many forms of wildlife, which if seen during your visit, should not be approached or disturbed.

We hope you appreciate the District's requirement that you sign below to acknowledge that you understand and accept the hazards to which you may be exposed and that you will defend, indemnify and hold harmless Mt. View Sanitary District and where applicable the Gardens at Heather Farm and each entities agents and employees from any personal injury, property damage or death that may arise from your visit to the District's facilities.
